The Catholic Fair a Success in a Worthy Cause

General News and Gossip from Our Reporter Over the River-

Yesterday was certainly an unusually dull day in Iowa's western metropolis. Few people were to be lived several years longer. seen on our streets. All the wholesale houses were closed, and nearly all retail business were suspended out army boys, has been tendered and acof respect for the day The general cepted a position as mailing clerk on quietness which prevailed was no doubt due to the fact that all church celebrations took place Sunday, and was obliged to forget that fat gobbler outside of these there is not much and hold court. Several plain drunks going on. The bad condition of the were ground out to give room for the streets and roads prevented driving more refined criminal, such as wife by those who usually occupy a portion of the day in this healthy exer-W. We hope all remembered the great and important event that the occasion commemorated.

A QUESTION.

Why was it that some other ministers beside the Episcopal did not take a more active part on the occasion of the Odd Fellows' fair, which was held for two days recently in this city? Why was it, our morning contemporary? The ministers must answer for themselves. We opine that one reason why one of our city pastors don't take a more active part, other than lending his presence and patronizing the affair, is because he does not believe in raffling, even to assist the poor. No matter how harmless we consider it there are ministers of the Fellows fair for the benefit of the poor gospel too conscientious as to countenance any such things.

A CHRISTMAS OPENING. When Chief of Police H. H. Field reached police headquarters on Sunday morning, he betook himself a thinking. "Well, he remarked, it is too bad when we remember how many human beings on this day are incarcerated; shut out from all the world on this Christmas day, in prison or dungeon. I am going to try an experiment for once," and he put on his cap, took his cane, and passing into the street went directly to the mayor's office, where he presented his plan, which was to empty the city prison of its human contents. The mayor concluded at once that on promise of good behavior all those confined for drunkenness and disturbance should be liberated at once. Chief Field re-turned to the jail, took down the iron bar, received their promise, opened the door, they were all free once more, and we take pleasure in aning, before night the came of-full of men arrested for the same offences, not one of those liberated found their way back.

Justice E. J. Abbott, on Christmas day united in marriage Mr. E. J. Re-pass, barber at the U. P. transfer and pass, barber at the U. P. transier and Miss Cora Magwood. The happy pair returned thanks when the certificate was handed them for the gift.

DIFFERENT WAYS OF CELEBRATING. The ways of celebrating Christmas in this land of the free and home of the brave are innumerable. Some go to church, some stay at home, some have roast turkey, and some have none. A man by the name of Scieffer cele-brated by going up to the Union stable on Broadway, and picked a fuss with a young man employed there. Chief Field was called. Scieffer let go his hold, slipped out the back way through an alley on to Main street, but was afterwards caught by Field and Brooks, and antied up $10 on the spot for his appearance at 9 o'clock had a respectable mother by the name of Brewer, who would not see him suffer celebrated by getting drunk, creating a disturbance for which he was hauled in by the police. A man by the name of Newell got drunk, entered a restaurant, passed out into A colored young man who'declared he entered a restaurant, passed out into the kitchen, astonished and frightened the hired girl by yelling like a Sioux, squatting in the slop bucket, upsetting contents on the floor, getting arrested and lodged in jail, where he begged like a dog with a sore head to be released. A number of others got on what is called a plain drunk, just enough on board to be unable to distinguish between Christmas and the Fourth of July, raised hades generally, and who has a wife he loves almost to distraction, put in on a complaint entered by his loved one, that he had amused himself Christmas by pounding her over the head, Andrews swears she is telling a l—light falsehood, and is only preparing a loop-hole through which wears she is telling a l—light false-hood, and is only preparing a loophole through which to crawl, and leave him a green grass widower. Tom Thumb, not the Thumb that Barnum has made famous, but another and more formidable "h nd" appendage, entered one of our saloons primed for a fight, got a Tom and Jerry warmed up, drew off, and got knocked through the door into the loving embrace of a policeman. REMEMBERING THE TYPE-STICKERS. Miss Hortense Bodurtha, very in-nocently touched the hearts of all the night force over at the Nonpariel building last Saturday night by having at her own expense an elegant repast prepared and sent to them. The boys didn't leave anything but the dishes and these they hugged pretty closely, well they were hungry. They were just able to speak to Clark, tell him about it and ask him to return thanks to the "generous and thoughtful donor." That turkey could never have been put to better use if it had
